Welcome to Quilt Wyoming 2026!

Quilt Appraisals: Deb Kipp, WSQG member and quilt appraiser, will have a room for quilt appraisals during QW26 on Thursday, July 9th. She can appraise ten quilts a day. You will have to make a reservation with her for your quilt. Contact her prior to QW26 to make your arrangements. Written appraisals are $50 and verbal appraisals are $25 (payable by check or cash). Contact Deb at 307-689-2746.

Class Selection: You will notice as you look at the brochure that there is a wide selection of classes! We included classes that will appeal to all levels and interests of today's quilters. To help make class selection easier, please check out the online brochure at www.wsqg.org for larger class project photos and complete supply lists. Teachers' emails are listed if you have specific questions for them.

Confident Beginner is a term that often confuses new (and experienced) quilters. It refers to those quilters who are comfortable with a consistent 1/4-inch seam allowance and who understand safe and accurate use of a rotary cutter. We welcome all quilters to expand their skills and enhance their repertoire by taking classes that will push them a bit, both artistically and technically.

Class Preparation: If you are taking a class that requires a sewing machine, it is expected that you will show up to the class with your machine ready to sew. A clean and dust-free sewing machine with a new needle is always a great way to begin the class. If you will be doing rotary cutting, put in a new or newish blade. If you are taking a handwork class, bring a task lamp and/or glasses if needed. The instructors expect that you will be ready to learn, as they put in many hours of preparation to get themselves ready to teach!

Coffee and Water Stations: There will be coffee and water stations set up in the classroom buildings.

Scott Flanagan

www.4thandmainsigns.com

Scott Flanagan's quilting journey started at the age of seven, sewing alongside his grandmother, making quilts for the Lutheran World Relief. Scott comes from a family of crafters and woodworkers.

He started 4th and Main Designs in 2011. Since then, his patterns have been frequently found in Quilter's World, Quiltmaker, McCalls Quilting, and Fons & Porter magazines.

He loves the endless possibilities available when designing patterns and gets super excited when putting together a project. He normally ends up with a sample within a day or two. As for his favorite part of quilting, really, all of it, from designing, to cutting, to piecing, to quilting, to binding (OK, that one may be a lie!). But it is all part of the creative process, and by skipping a step, it feels as though part of the project is missing.

Depending on your determination and drive, you could get a couple of animals completed in class and some of your 5" sashing strips. The size of finished quilt is 44" x 52" Look at old coloring books and old patterns to locate other animals if you don't want to do horses. I will bring animal pictures with me also.

39. Fractured Images - Diana Wilsey Geer Skill Level: All

Fractured Images is a strip cutting, straight seam sewing technique that results in an altered view of the original fabric design (think of looking through a kaleidoscope on steroids). Traditional quilting methods result in an art quilt. Each piece is a unique masterpiece that can become a wall hanging, table centerpiece, or the beginning of a quilt where the fractured image becomes the center. This class introduces the art of fracturing fabric by using four identical repeats of fabric or four identical panels. After cutting and labeling strips, the fabric will be sewn using straight 1/8" seams.

40. Seasons of Change - Kaye Evans Skill Level: All

A trunk show of nature art quilts will put you in the mood for this enchanting, inspired class. We will start with a provided 20" hand dyed background piece of fabric, and with finesse you will be designing your own creation. Add provided pieces of nature, whether it be feathers, corn silk, pebbles, pinecones, bark, threads, grasses and leaves to make this quilt come alive. You may bring your own items to add to your quilt. Top this off with a piece of tulle and a jute binding. You will have your own original piece of art for your wall.
Kit: $20.00

Josy Daniel has been sewing since about age 12. Even though she made most of her garments throughout her school years, she didn't make quilts until around 2012. Shortly after making her first quilt, she discovered Deb Tucker's Studio 180 Design tools. These tools make quilting much more accurate than other tools or rulers. These are the only tools that she uses now. She has been teaching with Studio 180 Design tools for nine years now. Almost any pattern can be adapted to use these tools, making any design more accurate. The tools make the usual block units that we all make over and over in our quilts. Many of these you can be made with straight grain fabric pieces instead of needing to sew with those stretchy bias pieces. She loves teaching quilters about these tools so they too can become even more accurate with their quilting.

Ruth Davis is an award-winning designer/quilter/instructor who has been piecing for over 20 years and machine quilting on both domestic and long arm machines for the past 15 years. She has designed numerous patterns and loves to use texture in her quilts by incorporating yarn couching, Chenille-lt, painting, hand dyeing and other embellishments on her quilts. She describes herself as a crazy paper-piecer. Ruth teaches at the Quilted Beehive in Ogden, UT. ruthiequilts8@yahoo.com or 385-837-9554

Tammy Day has been quilting for over 20 years. She fell in love with quilting after making a few baby and toddler quilts for her son and his friends. She came from the garment sewing world and absolutely loved that making quilts meant they'd be able to be used for lots of reasons, even if the recipient outgrew the size of the quilt. She loves experimenting with common shapes and making uncommon arrangements with them. YouTube has been a wonderful resource to both teach and gain inspiration. She finds herself creating quilts and quilt ideas more than ever because of the support of the YouTube community. She loves working with scraps, as it challenges her to think outside the box to use them wisely and waste as little as possible!

Connie lives with her husband Steve in Billings, MT. csdilts@msn.com or 406-861-1435

Kaye Evans was born the middle child of a career Air Force officer before her dad retired at HAFB in Ogden, UT. After her marriage and birth of her two children she took up the hobby and career that she now has, piecing and quilting hundreds of different quilts, not only for herself, but for charities involving police, foster children, cancer victims and Quilts of Valor. She enjoys not only teaching, but taking multiple classes to hone her knowledge and be able to pass that knowledge along to others. Many of the classes she teaches also involve a trunk show of multiple quilts made with the same technique, but slightly varied. Kaye is presently teaching a class she calls Kaffe and Friends. It is an ongoing class that is in its 13th year. Each year a different technique is taught, and students are encouraged to choose their own fabric and incorporate their imagination into their creation. The quilts are then displayed at the USQM show in Salt Lake City, UT, each May. Her passion?, teaching. She found it, and now embraces it wholeheartedly.

Robbie's classes are fun and low key. "Done is better than perfect." Robbie's second passion is long arming; she has been long arming for six years now. Debby Matlack at ten years old, went to her grama's house after school and there it was! A Montgomery Ward's Sewing Machine. It was love at first sight. She lived in Casper, WY, all her life and loves meeting and teaching quilters and seamstresses, not only in Wyoming but all over the United States. She taught herself to sew. Forty-plus years later, she has taught clothing construction for 4-H sewing. She has had 13 years of sewing bridal wear and doing alterations. In 2004 she decided she wanted to learn to quilt. She had an opportunity to teach a class at

Rachel Miller began her quilting adventure at just age 14. She was inspired by her grandma who wanted to bond with all her daughters and granddaughters during summer visits to Wyoming. With only four sewing machines and one iron among nine of them, the experience was chaotic and frustrating! Back then, she couldn't appreciate the art of quilting. She was preparing for marriage when she faced a sudden challenge—Bells Palsy left her face paralyzed. Needing something to keep her occupied during recovery, her mom suggested making a rag quilt on her new Janome. She struggled, and initial attempts did not spark joy. Five years later when her mother gifted her a small Brother sewing machine, everything changed. Skeptical about using it, Rachel reluctantly made a rag quilt for her firstborn. After a mishap where she accidentally clipped through the stitches, her mother graciously helped her fix it. With her second child born just a year later, she made her a quilt. That second quilt ignited a passion within her! The sense of accomplishment was exhilarating, especially knowing it would stay done, unlike other household chores! Friends began requesting quilts, and soon she found herself quilting for more strangers than friends. In 2017, she turned her passion into a business! Since 2018, she has been teaching quilting, both in-person and online, exploring various techniques, such as English Paper Piecing, traditional piecing, and appliqué. She also loves longarm quilting, specializing in both edge-to-edge and custom designs. Today, she runs a small in-home/online quilt shop featuring a wide array of Riley Blake Designs products. journeybackquilts@gmail.com or 307-262-5923

Deanna Redinger is married to Ken. They have one daughter and eight sons, which is why she quilts. Just like so many others, her grandma taught her to quilt when she was ten. She purchased her first Gammill long arm fifteen years ago. She has two Gamimill machines. The quilting is her favorite part. Four years ago she opened a quilt shop in Gillette called Blue Bike Quilt Studio. deanna@bluebikequiltstudio.com or 307-299-4243

Lauren Rogers has been on a creative journey since she was at least nine years old. There were lots of years participating in 4-H fairs and style shows, Make It With Wool contests and general sewing of clothing. She transitioned to quilting when she made her oldest son his first quilt in 1991. There has been a lot of learning since then! In 2002, she opened a quilt shop in Billings, MT, with her mother. She closed the shop in 2024 and is now a sales rep for a fabric distribution company. She continues to teach locally as well as regionally. She enjoys sharing her knowledge with the students as well as learning from them. She enjoys challenging herself with different techniques. Lauren525@earthlink.net or 406-690-2492

Anna Sapp, at the age of five already knew that the best times are spent with fiber, needles and friends. Her passion for all things fiber started with her first best friends, her grandma and the little old ladies in the neighborhood, who kept a very curious child busy with needles, threads, scraps and stories. They taught her the basics of stitching, spinning, tatting, crochet and knitting and showed her their most precious treasures which were pieces of various kinds of needlework created by their mothers, aunts and grandmothers in countries far away. Each piece had it's own story. They stoked both her love of fiber and her imagination. Thanks to good libraries and the invention of the internet these memories and their lessons have turned into a life-long history and ethnographic research project with many rabbit holes to explore, techniques to be learned and projects to be created...each with its own twist of fiber. As a career educator, Anna enjoys teaching others, and teaching various fiber techniques is always her favorite. She has taught classes at needlework stores, worked with community education and museums, taught private lessons and been part of online learning communities. No matter what or where she teaches, she feels the best part of teaching is that there is always something for her to learn from her students and new friends made!

Margie Ullery officially started designing in 2008 with a very good friend. Her passion for quilting and designing motivated her to launch Ribbon Candy Quilt Company in 2010. The patterns she designed are for the busy quilter in all of us, fast, easy and finished. Her mind never stops and the desire to constantly create is always there. She absolutely loves what she does! When not in her studio, you can find her spending time with her family, cooking, baking, reading or shopping for more fabric.

Donna Weeden was born in Gillette, WY, in November, with a coat on! She grew up on a ranch at Ridge, MT, 75 miles North of Gillette. Her family had cattle and sheep with farming also. The sheep were Donna's favorite. At age four she asked her mother to write to Santa because she wanted a pair of scissors for Christmas. To this day, she loves all of her scissors and loves to cut, cut, cut. Donna admired a "summer spread" that her grandmother had made using cardboard patterns and thick threads. She loved it then and she loves it now. Donna has had quilting articles published in Quiltmaker, McCall's Quilting and Quilters Newsletter Magazines. She enjoys all types of quilting but hand applique is her "happy place." She started a successful quilt club when they lived in Oklahoma. She has been a quilt guild member in Montana and now in Wyoming. She served on the WSQG Board for ten years. She enjoys sharing what she knows about hand applique with others.
